Q&A

Questions and Answers

Q: Do I have to flush before using STS Eco-Solvent Replacement Inks?

A: No. There are no flushing requirements when switching from the OEM to STS Eco-Solvent inks.

Q: How safe are STS replacement Eco-Solvent inks for Mutoh printers?

A: STS replacement inks are manufactured using cutting-edge technology, are GBL-free, Prop 65 and EN71-3 compliant as well. Currently, no other ink manufacturer provides these qualifications.

Q: Are the STS Replacement inks for Mutoh less expensive than the OEM versions?

A: If you are looking to save on production costs using Mutoh printers, you have come to the right place. STS Inks pricing can save up to 80% on total production costs versus the OEM and all with the consistent quality you can expect from STS, and we guarantee it.

• STS Inks has one of the best third-party warranties in the business, just ask your salesperson for details. https://www.stsinks.com/warranty/

Q: Will I get the exact same color reproduction and output?

A: STS replacement MS41 inks provide outstanding image quality and color gamut and are virtually indistinguishable from the original. The best part is that we manufacture these inks here in the USA, so quality is never an issue.

Q: Will switching inks to STS affect my printer warranty?

A: The Magnuson-Moss Warranty Act (Public Law 93-637) is a U.S. Federal law that states that warrantors cannot require that only brand name parts be used with any product, as some printer manufacturers "imply".
